World Tourism

VIENNA - The world famous Hotel Sacher in Austria reopened its doors. The management announced yesterday that it is very happy to welcome its first hotel guests back. In a statement in Social Media it said, "Hygiene and safety have always been one of Sacher's most important concerns. More than ever, we pay attention to your health - and that of our employees. So we will make sure that you can enjoy your time with us relaxed".

SINGAPORE – Regional collaboration will be key in driving cruise recovery when travel returns. To this end, Singapore Tourism Board (STB) intends to rally the support of regional governments to restore popular Southeast Asian itineraries in the recovery phase. "COVID-19 has hit the global cruise industry hard, perhaps more so than any other sector in the travel industry. But Singapore believes in the long-term growth potential of cruising, and that we are well-positioned to help our partners recover and tap on that growth," said Annie Chang, director, cruise of STB.

DENPASAR - Authorities in Bali have flagged tough health checks for arrivals ahead of any reopening of the island to international and domestic tourists. A regulation coming into force on 28 May requires prospective travellers to fill in an application form at <https://cekdiri.baliprov.go.id> to obtain a QR code. The QR code is proof that each prospective traveller has filled out the application form. Air passengers must present their QR code and a Covid-19 negative statement with a validity period of seven days from the time of arrival.

The Covid-19 negative certificate must be obtained from a government hospital laboratory or a laboratory designated by Bali's Covid-19 Task Force.

HANOI - Vietnam is considering opening its borders to foreign visitors from countries that have not reported new coronavirus cases for 30 days. The move was discussed on Thursday (28 May) during a meeting of the National Steering Committee for COVID-19 Prevention and Control in Hanoi. There are plans to limit the number of destinations that tourists can visit to a certain number of islands in the country such as Phu Quoc in Kien Giang Province, the committee members said.

Latest updates:

- From midday on today, Queenslanders will be able to enjoy unrestricted travel throughout the state. The State Government said the move effectively made Queensland its own "travel bubble" and would be a lifeline for the tourism sector.
- WA records three new coronavirus cases, including a three-year-old child.
- Dozens of crew from the Al Kuwait are now under quarantine in Perth hotels. Meanwhile, one of the crew members from the Al Kuwait livestock carrier, who previously tested positive to the virus, has been admitted to hospital.

What exactly is changing today in Queensland?

From June 1, 20 people be allowed to dine-in at restaurants and cafes, to attend a gym, cinema, library, museum, art gallery, or place of worship. The same rule will apply to bars, but patrons must be seated.

Venues are required to have "COVID-safe" plans in place, and in the majority of cases, these have been submitted by the sector's peak body.

Only venues that have unique services — such as Australia Zoo — are required to submit a bespoke COVID-safe plan.

From June 5, hospitality venues will be allowed to have 20 people per "section" of their establishment. This means at a pub with multiple restaurants and rooms, up to 20 people could be accommodated in each room, as long as there are no more than one person per 4 square metres.

World Situation

Worldwide Cases (01.06.2020, 0600 am)

6.12 Million Total cases confirmed

2.60 Million Total recovered

370,854 Deaths confirmed

The true figure is expected to be far higher due to the lack of widespread testing in many countries.
